Control and Management of Ships Ballast Water & Sediments aims to stop the spread of invasive aquatic species.. With shipping identified as a primary path for harmful organisms to spread from one region to another, the IMO has introduced a new regulation: the International Convention for the Control and Management of Ships Ballast Water & Sediments.. Ships of 400 GT and above are subject to surveys and certification, excluding floating platforms, FSUs and FPSOs.. Entered into force on 8 September 2017 Invasive aquatic species present a major threat to marine ecosystems.. However, as per BMW 2/Circ 46, Mobile Offshore Units should comply with the provisions of the Convention and should be surveyed and issued with an International Ballast Water Management Certificate.. What is the BMW Convention?BMW is the International Convention for
